[redacted] Secretary to United States Senator CHARLES H. PERCY, Room 4321 New Senate Office Building, home address [redacted] N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC), was interviewed and furnished the following information:

On July 16, 1974, the Annual Percy-Stevenson Softball Game was played at the Sidwall Friends School, 37th and Quebec Streets, N.W., Both Senators PERCY and STEVENSON were at the game. Senator PERCY was with [redacted] at the game. The original note was furnished to the interviewing Agents by [redacted] A Xerox copy of this note follows:

The note contains implied or possible threat against the Senator and [redacted] It is her understanding that the Senator talked with a Negro male concerning the note and set up a 2:45 p.m. appointment to talk with the individual on July 17, 1974. She does not know the contents of the conversation.

She further advised that regarding one item in the note that it is against the law to drink alcohol on a public playground, [redacted] advised that in 1973, it was her recollection that a Negro male complained about alcohol being used by Senator PERCY's softball team on a public playground. Police came to the playground and the matter was quietly resolved. She does not recall the man's name nor does she know how to find out his name.

CHARLES M. PERCY, United States Senator, Room 4313 New Senate Office Building, was interviewed and furnished the following information:

On July 16, 1974, he attended the Annual Percy-Stevenson Softball Game, which is a game in which PERCY's staff plays against ADALAI STEVENSON's staff. The game was held at the Sidwell Friends School, 37th and Quebec Streets, N.W., Washington, D.C. (WDC). Following the end of the game, he returned to his vehicle, a Ford Mustang, with [redacted]

[redacted] The car was parked opposite the entrance to a softball field. When inside the car, [redacted] found a note. She read it to him as he was starting the car. She stated that he had better look at the note. After he read it he looked up and saw a Negro male standing next to a tree near the car. He departed the vehicle and asked the gentleman if he was standing there for very long and if he possibly saw anybody near his vehicle. Due to the individual's rather hostile, bitter attitude in answer to the Senator's questions, the Senator assumed that the man wrote the note. The Senator questioned the individual as to why he would make such statements in the note and the individual replied, "It's just wrong for people to have money and me not to have a job." The Senator queried the individual as to whether or not he needed help at the moment, and the individual did not respond. The individual stated, "I suppose I can't even get an appointment to see you." and the Senator stated that it was true that it was not possible for everyone to see him, however, since the gentleman had asked for an appointment, the Senator set up an appointment for 2:45 on July 17, 1974, for the individual to come to the Senate Reception Room to talk with him.

Senator PERCY advised that he did not feel threatened while talking to the individual and realizes that the note is not a direct threat on his life, however, he felt it prudent to tell his Administrative Assistant, [redacted] who in turn, reported the note to the Capitol Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In effort to locate address of [redacted] N.E., the interviewing Agent approached a Negro male who was seen in an auto garage at an address located between [redacted] [redacted]. The Agent approached the individual and he became very belligerent and hostile inquiring what the Agent desired. The Agent identified himself as a Special Agent with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and desired to speak to a [redacted]. The individual replied that there was no [redacted] employed at [redacted].

When the individual was questioned as to his name he became somewhat hostile and made a statement to the effect that if he were to knock at the interviewing Agent's door in his white wealthy suburban neighborhood he would be arrested. The Agent then asked for the manager's name and the person refused to give the name of the manager.

The individual again questioned the Agent as to what the matter concerned and was advised that an individual had given the name of [redacted] and an address [redacted] [redacted] and obviously had given a fictitious address. The Agent then folded a Xerox copy of a note in his possession to reflect only the name of [redacted] and the address of [redacted] [redacted] and displayed same to the individual who looked at the name and refused any comment. The individual stood by the Agent staring and making no comment. When questioned again as to the manager's name, the individual walked away and again stated that the Agent was not being truthful in answering what the questioning was about. The interviewing Agent terminated the interview at this point and walked away from the individual. The individual is described as follows:

[redacted] Executive Secretary to United States Senator CHARLES H. PERCY, Room 4321, New Senate Office Building furnished a Xerox copy, which is attached, of a letter received at the home residence of Mr. PERCY, 1691 34th Street, N.W. The letter was received by her on August 13, 1974

The original letter was retained by her as the senator had not yet seen the letter and there was no threat to the senator mentioned in the letter.

Due to Mr. PERCY'S extremely busy schedule and numerous appointments, the interviewing agent furnished a group of elimination photographs to Ms. [redacted] for display to Senator PERCY at a convenient time for him to view same.

Absolutely nothing was said to Ms. [redacted] as to which photograph was believed to be that of the person involved.

She was asked to display photographs to Mr. PERCY to ascertain if he observed the individual with whom he spoke on July 16, 1974 subsequent to the softball game at 37th and Quebec Streets N.W.

The following photographs made the group:

1. [redacted] Negro male, FBI Number [redacted], Newark, New Jersey, Police Department Number [redacted]

3. [redacted] Negro male born [redacted] Washington, D. C., Department of Motor Vehicle Photograph Number [redacted]

To Mr. Percy.

My name is [redacted] and i requested an opportunity to get an appointment with you at your convenience when i could explain my problem in full without interruptions nor distractions. Instead of putting me in line, which i was willing to wait, you gave me a beat-around-the-bush, catch-as-catch-can 245 in congress type answer. The reason i am writing this is too thank you for sending the FBI around this morning. Enclosed is a copy from the Washington Star to prove that i have been working for over a year on an article ~~of~~ using you as an example - that political people just do not care about three classes of people poor, black and socially unacceptable. i plan on calling it the "Twentieth century slave". And thanks to your agent this morning who asked the white man to step outside so he could proceed to slander an innocent black gentleman (the wrong one at that) who had no idea what you were up too. i have an appointment to discuss this with the ACLU. This sort of action on your behalf dramatizes my point; that rather than meet a black person or a person without funds (i hate poor) you'd rather spend untold sums of the tax payers trying to hurt somebody, wouldn't it be so much easier if you would try to help somebody. The copy of the news clipping is the result of one of the two dozen reporters

finish putting together all the info i have collected
this time

[redacted] etc) dating back to your last softball game. Unfortunately it has been grossly edited but i have all the facts down to the tag numbers, inspection sticker numbers, senate staff numbers, airport stickers, bumper stickers colors and whatever else as well as a count of beer cans, ballentine, schieler, slitze last time, schieler this time, your car last time black riveria grey body white vinyl top, white upholstery; your clothing blue slacks, loafers (you were by yourself and didn't play last time) and a blue ban lon tye shirt. As you can see from the Police Legal Counsel's respond to over 50 pages ~~for~~ fact, they don't even fully ~~believe~~ believe my story even after i gave them the tag # and times of their vehicles which they could very easily check.

I want to know why the law is not equitably enforced throughout Washington. Recently I saw a softball game at a playground at 37th and Quebec Streets NW in which the two opposing teams were members of the staffs of two United States senators. I noticed numerous people coming onto the playground carrying cases of beer and beer coolers. I noticed a police officer riding through the playground on a motor scooter. He observed what was going on and then left. I then noticed that there were cars illegally parked on an adjoining street and that there were dogs on the playground which were not on leashes. I then went to complain to the D.C. police. After I complained, one policeman on a motor scooter and another in a car showed up, conferred and left without doing anything. I have verified that these people were Senate staffers and that the illegally parked cars belonged to them. It doesn't seem to me that these people should be above the law, and it doesn't seem that policemen should ignore violations of the law.

A spokesman for the Police Department Legal Counsel's Office responded to your complaints: Assuming that the story is true, I don't like the idea of policemen sitting and watching illegal acts, particularly if those acts would be handled differently in other situations. But it must be pointed out that this is not of a very serious character. Enforcement for such violations should be of a uniform character, and if that policy has been violated, regret that very much. On the other hand, it's to get too excited about violations of this kind.

now using this person's point of view, if he can't get too excited about this kind of violations, then I can't get too excited about rape, why? cause the odds of it happening to me are zero. As I pointed out to you one man got 151 years just because he was hungry and people like you forced him to break your laws just to eat - the same laws that you a lawmaker break every day. Moreover you've proven that if this man had come to you meekly as I did, you would only have knifed him in the back as you have done me. If you're still with me at this point let me give you some addition reason why you're of interest to me. At twenty-nine you were president of Bell & Howell, your family is suppose to have been on welfare twice. You suffered the results of extreme violence involving a member of your family and most of all i wasted a vote on you, which after your ~~threatening~~ <sup>make me</sup> threatening action against me, ~~which~~ wish i could take back, but there is a farther lesson here, black people, people without funds, and socially unacceptable people are wasting their time voting for you or anybody else for that matter. Now with all this experience it seems you would be a little more sensitive to what's happening today. But you just don't care do you? All you're interested in is posing for cameras and hurting people. It's useless wasting phone calls on your staff as they only resulted in them hanging up on me even though i was as courteous as possible, this account for my more direct aproach this time. i'm going to close by saying if i were white, or rich, or were in the social registrar, you'd bend over backwards to see me. i still think you're chicken! i have three tentative offers to put this before the public if i can corralate it all into something that make sence. i would like to include yoursides too, i sure you must have a wopper of a reason for wanting to hurt me rather than you elected job of representing me. The address is only a place where i can receive my mail as i can not afford the luxury of a permanent address like you. Somebody their has been nice enough to forward my mail to me and in no way should they be held responsible. Oh yes i just came across an article in my file on you that shows how [redacted] when on T.V. and in the newspapers to aid the west virginia guilt makers, but no where is there a black one pictured so maybe i shall have to modify my hypothesis to include only black people.

P.S. How 'bout it - are you still too chicken to meet with me

[redacted] Tyson Auto Glass, 241 Mill Road, Vienna, Virginia, advised that his company employs four salesmen who have in the past been giving out notebook pads to the Tyson Auto Glass customers as an advertising gimmick. [redacted] examined the note which was received by Senator CHARLES H. PERCY on July 16, 1974, and advised the note paper was first utilized by Tyson Auto Glass in approximately February of 1973. The pad was discontinued and replaced approximately nine months ago or during December of 1973. [redacted] advised that during that time period, approximately 2,000 pads were given out by the salesmen in an advertising program. There is no administrative control over the distribution of these pads. The clients of the Tyson Auto Glass Company are basically auto body shops and automobile dealerships in the Tri-State area, Washington, D.C., Maryland, and Virginia. There are approximately 250 active accounts.

[redacted] advised that the [redacted] Washington, D.C., is not an active account but that it was quite possible that a salesman could have left note pads at that location in an attempt to get their business.

[redacted] advised that there are no current or past employees by the name of [redacted] nor are there any past or current employees which would fit the description of the individual who was located close to Senator CHARLES PERCY's automobile on July 16, 1974.
